

Academic discipline:
“Archaeology”

Code and name of specialty	6-05-0222-01 History
Training course	1
Semester of training	1
Number of class hours:	78
Lecture	50
Seminar classes	28
Practical classes	--
Laboratory classes
Form of current assessment (credit/differential credit/exam)	Exam
Number of credits	3
Competencies to be formed	To possess the basics of research, search, analysis and synthesis of information; take into account the achievements of the material and spiritual culture of Belarus and the world at different stages of historical development
Summary of the content of the academic discipline:
The academic discipline “Archaeology” provides the study of the main achievements of world, European and domestic archaeological science; the knowledge assimilation of the main sources that allow reconstructing events of the past, types of archaeological monuments, procedures for studying archaeological sources and reconstruction; the study of archaeological chronology and periodization of events in the history of mankind, dating methods in archaeology; consideration of the main archaeological cultures and periods of the most ancient history of mankind based on archaeological sources; introduction to the specifics of conducting archaeological research at the stage of exploration, excavation of monuments, desk processing of materials and desk work of an archaeologist; fostering a positive attitude to the preservation of archaeological heritage on the example of materials obtained as a result of archaeological work.	