

Academic discipline:
“The History of the Ancient World”

Code and name of specialty	6-05-0222-01 History
Training course	1
Semester of training	1/2
Number of class hours:	188
Lecture	106
Seminar classes	82
Practical classes	–
Laboratory classes	–
Form of current assessment (credit/differential credit/exam)	Exam/exam
Number of credits	3 /5
Competencies to be formed	To have the ability to analyze the processes of state-building in different historical periods, identify the factors and mechanisms of historical changes. To search and analyze historical sources, highlight the most significant facts, and give them their own assessment critically. To identify and describe the main characteristics of social processes in countries and regions at different stages of historical development

Summary of the content of the academic discipline:

Ancient civilizations and their contribution to the development of mankind. The History of the Ancient East: the civilizations of Ancient Mesopotamia, Egypt, Asia Minor, Transcaucasia, Iran and the Eastern Mediterranean; the ancient civilizations of India and China.

The history of antiquity and its place in the course of world history. The history of Ancient Greece: Minoan Crete and Achaean Greece; Greece in the XI-VI centuries BC; ancient Sparta; the history of Athenian slave-owning democracy; the Greco-Persian wars; the conquests of Alexander the Great and the history of the Hellenistic states.

The history of Ancient Rome: Early Rome and Italy; the history of the Roman Republic; the creation of the Roman Mediterranean power; the crisis and fall of the Roman Republic; The Early Roman Empire; the crisis of the ancient slave society in the III century AD; The Late Roman Empire.