

Academic discipline:
«Information Technology»

Code and name of specialty	6-05-0412-02 Business Administration
Training course	1/2
Semester of training	2/3
Number of classhours	50
Lectures	20
Seminar classes	-
Practical classes	-
Laboratory classes	30
The form of intermediate certification (credit/differential credit/exam)	credit/exam
Number of credits	6/6
Competencies to be formed	Learning the discipline «Information Technology» should provide the formation of specialized competence - to be able to conduct a quantitative description of medical and biological processes and statistical processing of medical research data, to summarize and systematize the results of the work, using modern computing technology
Brief content of the academic discipline:
The discipline «Information Technology» includes the following sections: introduction, fundamentals of computer science, technical means of computer science, computer science software, computer networks, information security.	