

Academic discipline:
«Information technologies in legal activity»

Code and name of specialty	6-05-0421-01 Jurisprudence
Training course	1
Semester of training	1
Number of class hours	34
Lectures	8
Seminar classes	-
Practical classes	26
Laboratory classes	-
The form of intermediate certification (credit/differential credit/exam)	credit
Number of credits	-
Competencies to be formed	Mastering the academic discipline “Information technologies in legal activities” should ensure the formation of universal and specialized competencies: to solve standard tasks of professional activity based on the use of information and communication technologies; to use means of obtaining, storing, processing, transmitting and protecting information, to work with geospatial information.
Brief content of the academic discipline:
“Information technologies in legal activity” is an additional type module training discipline, which includes the following topics: Basic legal informatization concepts. Application of modern information technologies in legal activity. Information and communication technologies in law. Application of modern information technologies in legal activity. Basic legal informatization concepts. Information and communication technologies in law. Electronic document management. Electronic digital signature. Basic electronic services in the Republic of Belarus. The content of the discipline is designed to provide: the formation of students' theoretical and methodological knowledge foundations on modern working methods with legal information, the idea formation about the trends in the development of information technologies and the use of modern information and communication technologies to solve problems in the professional activities of a lawyer; - stimulation of students' cognitive interest in the computer technology application in the future professional activities of a lawyer.	