

Academic discipline:
"Information law"

Code and name of specialty	6-05-0421-03 Economic law
Training course	1/2
Semester of training	2/3
Number of class hours	12
Lectures	10
Seminar classes	2
Practical classes	-
Laboratory classes	-
The form of intermediate certification (credit/differential credit/exam)	Exam
Number of credits	3
Competencies to be formed	To interpret and apply the norms of information law correctly, solve theoretical and practical problems of the industry. To solve standard tasks of professional activity based on the use of information and communication technologies.
Summary of the content of the academic discipline:
Information law refers to emerging, complex branches of law, the subject of which are social relations arising in the field of collection, production (creation), processing, registration, accumulation, storage, updating, provision (transmission, broadcast, retransmission, distribution), receipt (consumption, use), protection of information and protection of others from its negative impact. The purpose of studying the discipline: the formation of students' systemic knowledge about the basics and specifics of the legal regulation of information relations, the development of skills of analysis, interpretation and application of the norms of information law.	