

Academic discipline:
"History of political and legal doctrines"

Code and name of specialty	6-05-0421-03 Economic law
Training course	1
Semester of training	2
Number of class hours	8
Lectures	8
Seminar classes	-
Practical classes	-
Laboratory classes	-
The form of intermediate certification (credit/differential credit/exam)	credit
Number of credits	3
Competencies to be formed	Mastering the discipline "History of political and legal doctrines" should ensure the formation of universal and basic professional competencies: to identify factors and mechanisms of historical development, to determine the social significance of historical events; to analyze socio-economic phenomena and processes occurring in society and the world, to apply economic and sociological knowledge in professional activities
Summary of the content of the academic discipline:
Patterns of the emergence and development of political and legal doctrines. The evolution of ideas about the state and law in the course of the historical development of society: from mythology to rationalism. Periodization of the history of political and legal doctrines. Correlation of the history of political and legal doctrines of individual countries (regional history) and the general (world) history of political and legal doctrines. Political and legal thought of the Ancient East, Ancient Greece and Ancient Rome. Political and legal ideas in the Middle Ages. Political and legal doctrines in the Renaissance. The influence of the ideas of the Reformation on the ideas of power, politics, state and law. Features of early bourgeois revolutions and their reflection in political and legal ideology. Political and legal doctrines in the period of Modern times. The main directions of Western political science and jurisprudence in the second half of the XIX–XX centuries.	